

The following Directors are responsible for the administration of the Trust.

Fulvia Cantarutti: President and Chair

Fulvia is a retired Scotiabank District Vice President. She joined the bank in 1982 and held progressively senior positions including Canadian Banking Human Resources Executive Offices, Director of Commercial Banking and Management Retail Banking positions. She holds an Honours BA in Economics, an AICB, as well as her Personal Financial Planning Designation. Fulvia has provided countless hours of mentoring within Scotiabank and within the community. She is a past member of York Central Hospital Foundation and Business Industry Committee and has chaired gala events in support of the hospital expansion, raising over $250,000. Fulvia was also a past Director on the Board of Directors for the Canadian Italian Business Professional Association (2015-2018) as well as for the Rose of Sharon (2014-2017). She enjoys walking, hiking, golfing and traveling.

Susan Stewart: Secretary

Susan is a graduate of the University of New Brunswick and Queen's University. She worked as a teacher in various positions in Junior High and Elementary Schools. After moving to Ontario, Susan worked for a provincial charitable organization for 17 years. Susan joined CFUW Aurora/Newmarket in 2002 and is an active member in many interest groups. She is a past Interest Group Chair for CFUW Aurora/Newmarket and is part of the communications committee for the club sending out the information broadcast. Susan also volunteers for the Visiting Library Services at the Aurora Public Library.

Marie Wallace: Treasurer

Marie graduated from University of Western Ontario and after a number of years in finance with Imperial Oil, returned to school to study Human Resources, where she worked in a number of different sectors for over 20 years until retirement. She has been a member of the L'Arche Daybreak Board and the York Curling Club Board for many years. An active curler and golfer, Marie moved to Newmarket in 2008 and joined CFUW in 2017.

Pam Jones: Director

Pam Jones received an undergraduate degree in English from McMaster University and later a post graduate degree in education from York University. She went to Hamilton Teachers' College and taught grades one through six in Essex and Peel County Boards of Education for 18 years before going to Ohio State University to train as a Reading Recovery Teacher Leader. The rest of her teaching career was spent training teachers in Reading Recovery, an intervention for Grade One students having difficulty learning to read and write. She has been a member of Aurora/Newmarket CFUW since 2002 and has been chair of the social committee and interest groups.

Martha Hogan: Director and Awards Chair

Martha is a graduate of the University of Waterloo, B Math; Queen's University B Ed and is a Chartered Accountant CPA. She worked as an accountant in both Canada and Australia before pursuing a career in teaching Mathematics at Secondary Schools in York Region. As a teacher, she also coached many sports, supervised extracurricular activities and encouraged her students to get involved. Martha believes that every student should be able to pursue their dreams and that a well-rounded education should be available to all.

Eileen Watson: Director

Eileen Watson graduated from the University of Toronto and received degrees in both Physical and Occupational therapy and Bachelor of Science. She was a therapist at St. Michael's Hospital for three years before raising her children and did part time work while they were young. After moving to Aurora in 1970 she worked at Southlake Hospital as Supervisor of Physical Therapy. Eileen was involved with her late husband for many years in many organizations for disabled children and adults, and raised money for Southlake Hospital for the CAT scan and the Therapeutic Pool. Presently she is on the boards of Third Age Learning, CFUW and Gran Aurora. Eileen is a strong believer in education.

Peggy Millson: Director

Peggy is currently a Professor Emeritus in the Dalla Lana School of Public Health at the University of Toronto. She trained as a physician at the University of Toronto, worked as a family doctor for a few years, then specialized in public health medicine, and began a new career of teaching and research at U of T. Her career path allowed her to do research with both governmental and community organizations, focusing on research aimed at improving the lives of marginalized and vulnerable people affected by HIV and hepatitis C, with a particular focus on prevention studies and studies related to harm reduction. She has also been able to teach and mentor Master's and PhD students in public health, as well as residents training as public health physicians. She originally joined CFUW A/N to find a book club, which has been a great success. Since then she has joined, and now co-leads, the hikers; works on the club newsletter as part of the communications committee; and is a member of the programme committee.
